The Sentricon® system ensures your new place is not home sweet home for termites.

Congratulations on your new home! We hope you are settling in and are enjoying the excitement of a new home designed just for you. By now, you may be wondering what the little green discs are around your home. Those are Sentricon® stations included by your builder to protect your home against termites. Sentricon lets you sleep easy knowing you have ongoing protection to keep your biggest investment termite-free year-round.

No queen. No colony. No kidding. SENTRICON®

Protect your home from a threat you can't see.

Your builder has provided the service for the first year of living in your new home. Your Certified Sentricon Specialist™ provides your ongoing termite protection contract. On the anniversary of your move-in date, you will receive a notification from your CSS for an inspection of your property for termites and of the Sentricon® stations for activity. Upon contract renewal, you can expect a yearly service check by your CSS to ensure the Always Active™ technology in your Sentricon stations remains in place and continues to keep your home termite-free. You don't need to do anything else. Check termite control off your to-do list.
